Kashmir: The situation remains tense and potentially dangerous.

25X1

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] the infiltration effort will be sustained to make it appear that a genuine uprising is under way inside Indian Kashmir, and that during the next two weeks the activity will be intensified, apparently in hopes of provoking a strong Indian Army reaction.]

The Indians claim, however, that Kashmiri infiltrators from the Pakistan side of the cease-fire line are being rounded up or forced back without accomplishing much damage. Any extensive outbreak by sympathetic Kashmiris on the Indian side is doubtful.

Indian efforts are now focused on meeting the infiltration effort with measured force on the ground, while stimulating diplomatic pressure to dissuade the Pakistanis from continuing the paramilitary operation. Pakistan has disclaimed responsibility for the infiltrators and has rejected an Indian note of protest. India is persisting, through the UN group in Kashmir and through appeals to such countries as the UK and Australia to intercede, in its effort to galvanize international support.

25X1 Greece: [King Constantine, [redacted] 25X1
[redacted] intends to declare a military dictatorship if continuing efforts fail to achieve the formation of a new government not headed by former premier Papandreou.]

[Papandreou has asked for an audience with the King, but has not indicated whether he wants to offer a rapprochement or intends to threaten to take the dispute to the people. He has already announced a speech-making tour which the US Embassy believes could lead to increasing disorder.]

NOTES

Egypt - Saudi Arabia: Saudi Arabia has responded positively to last week's overtures by President Nasir for a negotiated cease-fire in Yemen. The Saudi ambassador, who is carrying the reply to Cairo, was instructed to keep negotiations open and to explain that although King Faysal was currently detained by the press of business, he wanted to talk to Nasir. The ambassador was to point out that, in any event, the two leaders would be meeting at the Arab Summit conference in Rabat on 13 September.

25X1

Afghanistan-USSR: Afghanistan probably has now received enough Soviet SA-2 surface-to-air missiles to equip a second standard six-launcher SAM site.

missiles were scheduled for delivery in July and may be displayed in the independence day parade on 23 August. Like the SAMs received last year, these missiles will probably then be put in storage until the training of Afghan personnel, reportedly to begin in November, is completed.

*Dominican Republic: Diverse elements within the rebel camp are apparently divided over whether to accept the OAS proposed solution to the Dominican crisis with some semantic changes or totally reject it. More moderate elements, such as members of Bosch's Dominican Revolutionary Party, reportedly favor accepting the "Act of Reconciliation" after a few face-saving modifications. Communist forces and some rebel opportunists, such as Hector Aristy, however, are openly critical of the act and have attempted to provoke popular reaction against the OAS settlement.
